

Clean Slate (clinoptilolite zeolite)

After months of research (years, really), I've come to clearly understand that the products at The Root Brands are the best detox products on the market.

As of this writing, many of my clients and readers in my community have been taking it for some time and are seeing nothing short of astounding results. I do not say this lightly.

Go here for a general info sheet on the benefits of clinoptilolite zeolite.

See the end of this document for the historic use of clinoptilolite zeolite as an anti-carcinogen and anti-radiation compound.

Clean Slate benefits (go here to order):

- Raw ingredient is 97% pure zeolite clinoptilolite with 3% bentonite clay
- No other zeolite like it on the market
 - Starts where other zeolites leave off
 - Other zeolites can harm silica, which is what's needed to remove toxins, including the spike protein, heavy metals, and adjuvants from injections
 - The formulator of Clean Slate sources from the only mine that has this particular clinoptilolite—no one else can get it or extract it and she's patented the process of unlocking the bioavailable silica (silicon dioxide) that's the most important part of the sodium-alumino-silicate of clinoptilolite
 - Contains orthosilicic acid—the formulator is the only person who knows how to unlock the acid from its most bioavailable form

- Embeds frequencies of healing to increase efficacy (prayer, magnets, and polarization) and communicates regeneration of every cell of the body
- Rips apart the viruses and bacteria and stops cellular communication and adjuvants
- Grabs onto and removes:
 - graphene oxide
 - aluminum oxide
 - iron oxide
 - parasites
 - spike proteins
 - heavy metals (involved in 5G and fungus and one of the primary causes of autoimmunity—make sure you read this info sheet about how it detoxes heavy metals)
- Embedded with trace minerals to prevent mineral depletion/mineral gapping and support the cell in regeneration *
 - Helps to prevent mineral gapping and autoimmunity—adjuvants and heavy metals displace minerals in the cell receptor sites (gapping), so cells can't absorb any minerals, even from supplements, in the presence of heavy metals
- Encapsulated in Vitamin C, which is the lock that gets everything into the cell, then frequency goes into mitochondria
 - Cleans cells, cleans mitochondria, and starts regeneration

* Note: With Clean Slate, the minerals are embedded so you don't need extra to support the detox function. Taking minerals next to a zeolite is not the same thing and this is why they're embedded. For those who are severely mineral depleted, they can continue to take extra trace minerals through the day, as well as take advantage of the trace minerals in The Root Brand's Immune Defense Shield and Relive Greens.

Dosing Clean Slate

Take meds two hours from Clean Slate. It can be taken in a small amount of water or ideally, under the tongue.

Below is the low and slow method. These aren't directions, they're guidelines.

Clean Slate for adults

One drop in the morning, 1 drop in the evening. Next day, 2 drops in the morning, 2 in the evening. And so on until 20 drops per day total, 10 morning/10 evening. If a mild detox reaction begins, stay at that dose or scale back. If a pronounced detox reaction begins, go back to one drop in glass of water. Yes, this product is that powerful and effective.

Clean Slate for children

It doesn't go by age or weight. Take the child's age, cut in half and that's the total drops for the day. So a 12-year-old would have 6 total drops per day, split into 3 drops morning, 3 drops evening. But start with 1 drop in the morning, 1 in the evening, as explained above for adults, but max out at half the child's age. If a pronounced detox reaction begins, go back to one drop in glass of water. Yes, this product is that powerful and effective.

Historic use of natural zeolite clinoptilolite found in Clean Slate

Zeolite clinoptilolite has been used in livestock feeds for decades to prevent aflatoxicosis, the poisoning that results from ingestion of aflatoxins, the carcinogenic mycotoxins produced by the Aspergillus flavus and Aspergillus parasiticus species of fungi. Aflatoxins are amongst the most carcinogenic substances known.

Shortly after the Fukushima disaster, the Japanese government began ordering the dropping of zeolites in the oceans surrounding the disaster site.

It's had a variety of roles in tackling the dramatic and detrimental effects of the Chernobyl disaster. Over 500,000 tons of clinoptilolite zeolite were shipped in from Ukraine, Georgia, and Russia—the material was successfully used to decontaminate low-level radiation waters. It was also used by the Bulgarian government for their Chernobyl disaster. They found the Rhodope Mountains rich in zeolite and the people were unaffected.

It's been used extensively in reducing environmental impacts of major accidents, such as the 3-Mile Island event in Pennsylvania, which has led to further use of natural zeolites due to its affinity to both strontium and cesium.
